Cuban Officials Order Rally

Protest To Be Made Against U. S.

HAVANA (AP) — The pro-government press and radio Sunday summoned Cubans to a massive rally Monday to protest "foreign aggression," a cold reference to the United States.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro, beset by the gravest crisis in his 10 months of power, originally called the rally to protest "aerial attacks against national territory."

But as sound trucks blared through the streets and radio broadcasts called on the people to rally, the theme was switched to "foreign aggression."

The Cuban Labor Confederation prepared more than a million badges reading "against foreign aggression" to be distributed when demonstrators begin assembling at the presidential palace Monday.

Joining in the call for at least a million Cubans to turn out, the confederation has ordered a general work shutdown for noon to give workers a chance to attend the rally. The shutdown applies to Havana and three neighboring provinces.

Declaration
The Cuban people "will ask for the firing squad against aggressors," declared the pro-government newspaper La Calle. This raised the possibility that military tribunals may be brought back in the campaign against Castro's enemies.

The aggression charge is an apparent allusion to what Castro claims are bombings and strafing by planes manned by "war criminals" based in the United States. U.S. authorities here have said they have found no evidence of any bombing or strafing although light planes have been heading Havana with leaflet-dropping missions.

Two light planes flew during leaflet missions over Havana again Saturday night. One plane even dumped leaflets on military headquarters in the eastern outskirts of this capital.

Police Saturday night broke up a demonstration by a crowd carrying placards calling for the execution of Maj. Hubert Matos, his staff officers, and the defeated air force chief, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz.

Resignation
Matos precipitated the crisis by resigning as military commander in Camaguey province, saying he was not in accord with what he called the growing Communist influence in government. His staff supported him.

Diaz Lanz, who fled to exile in Miami, was quoted by the FBI as admitting leading one of the leaflet raids on Havana. He has charged the Communists were too influential in the Castro regime, a charge the Prime Minister has denied.

18,000 Meat-Packing Employees End Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 18,000 meat-packing employees, idled for seven weeks by a strike, have voted to return to work at 37 Swift & Co. plants Monday, a union spokesman announced.

The spokesman said Sunday locals of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the United Packinghouse Workers of America voted, Friday, Saturday and Sunday to ratify a tentative agreement reached Thursday night.

The agreement calls for wage increases ranging from 8 1/2 to 15 cents an hour over a two-year period plus improved fringe benefits.

Ratification was announced jointly in a statement issued by Thomas Lloyd, Amalgamated president, and Ralph Helstein, UPWA chief.

A third union, the National Brotherhood of Packinghouse Workers, also signed a two-year contract with Swift. This union, representing 6,000 workers in seven plants, had not struck.

The UPWA and AMCU went out Sept. 4 when the company balked at signing a new contract along lines already agreed upon by the unions and Armour & Co. and other major packers.

The return to work will depend on how rapidly the struck plants can resume operations, the union spokesman said. He added that slaughtering operations probably would be the first to get under way.

Precontract wages in the industry averaged $2.56 an hour.

Dulles To Appear As Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional investigators hope Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, can help in their search for more information on Soviet economic advances.

Dulles has agreed to be the leadoff witness Nov. 13 when a Senate-Subcommittee Economic subcommittee resumes its hearings on the U.S.-Soviet economic race.

Subcommittee Chairman Rep. Richard Bolling (D-Mo.) made public Sunday a new list of witnesses, headed by Dulles, along with the second of a series of papers prepared by economic experts bearing on Soviet production, consumption, and spending.

Bolling summed up the papers by saying it is difficult to make comparisons between any two national economies—even more so when those economies are at different stages of development and have different policy objectives.

Working Papers
The working papers are based on Soviet source materials. But the authors pointed out that there still is much information available from the Soviet Union.

There was general agreement that the Soviet economy is growing much faster than that of the United States.

Morris Bornstein of the University of Michigan said in his paper that since 1950 the Soviet national product has been growing at an average rate of 6 percent.

American Hurt In Ambush Set Up By Cuban Sailors

HAVANA (AP) — An American was injured slightly Sunday after he inadvertently drove his car through an ambush set up by Cuban sailors disguised as peasants, police said. The sailors were expecting a light plane to land on the dark highway outside Havana.

Patrick Kinney, 28, of Abasco, Mont., an employee of a local steel-processing company, and his wife were fired on after four men tried to flag them down with waving arms and blinking flashlights.

A spokesman at Cotorro police headquarters, where the Kinneys went for first aid, said the sailors first fired in the air and then at the car when it failed to stop.

Dark Highway

The incident occurred on a dark highway 11 miles from the center of Havana in an area of tension over frequent night flights of unidentified aircraft.

Kinney was cut by glass splinters and treated at a hospital. His wife, although uninjured, reportedly suffered shock.

He made a formal complaint at police headquarters. The U.S. Embassy, which also received a report, said it is investigating.

Kinney told reporters he was on his way home around 2 a.m. when he saw a car parked at the roadside and persons he could not recognize tried to flag him down. When he drove on, there was gunfire, and later he counted 16 empty shells by the roadside, he added.

"I can't ask my wife to remain here any longer," he added. "There'll be more of this. We've had it."

Khrushchev Returns To Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev returned Sunday from a surprise trip to Romania, apparently refreshed and ready for important cold war policy statements when Parliament opens this week.

His previously announced six-day visit to Romania was described as a short vacation by Tass, the official news agency. The Premier has been on the go almost constantly since his U.S. visit.

Khrushchev's last reported public engagement in Moscow was Oct. 15, shortly after his return from Red China and a barnstorming tour of Siberia. He flew to Romania Oct. 19 at the invitation of the Romanian government.

He toured the Romanian countryside accompanied by party leader Gheorghe Gheorgiu-Dej, Premier Chivu Stoica and President Ion Gheorghe Maurer.

Moscow radio said there were talks as well as sightseeing and these "took place in an exceptionally warm and cordial atmosphere."

On his visit to Peiping for Red China's 10th birthday celebration and on his Siberian tour, Khrushchev proclaimed the policy of peaceful settlement of international disputes that he and President Eisenhower enunciated after their talks in the United States.

Parliament opens Tuesday, offering Khrushchev another opportunity to make an important statement on the relaxation of international tensions. He is expected to report on both his visits to the United States and Peiping in a foreign policy address.

Brotherhood Lashes At Railroads

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Railroad companies are "trying to distort and twist the facts about our wages and working conditions," says Guy L. Brown, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Brown made the charge Saturday in a speech before locomotive engineers from BLE divisions in the east.

He referred to newspaper advertisements placed by management. The ads attack unions for work-rule agreements that allegedly result in featherbedding, or keeping employees for jobs that no longer exist. An example might be coal stokers on diesel engine crews.

"The management are trying to set the stage for negotiations on wages — which are already under way," Brown said, "and the stage they want for negotiations on rules. We can expect their negotiations on rules to be served on us very shortly now."

The negotiations are for new contracts to replace those soon to expire.

10 Inches Of Snow Falls In Wisconsin's Initial Storm

(By The Associated Press)

HEAVY, SLUSHY snow soaked the Upper Great Lakes Sunday with the season's first wintry onslaught. Much of the rest of the country had a chilly, drizzly day.

Snowfall measured 10 inches at Crandon in Wisconsin's Rhineland resort area and 8 inches at Marquette, Mich., on Lake Superior near Keweenaw Bay, Mich.

Freezing temperatures made for hazardous driving in the Michigan upper peninsula and the freezing snow weighted and snapped overhead telephone lines in the area.

Pennsylvania

Light snow also dusted parts of Illinois, northern Indiana and Pennsylvania during the night, but dissolved into puddles by daybreak.

There was rain and drizzle all through the Ohio Valley and into New England and west into North Dakota, parts of the Northern Plains and Minnesota.

The Michigan snowfall sent the Chocoma River four feet above its bank and nine families were evacuated from their homes.

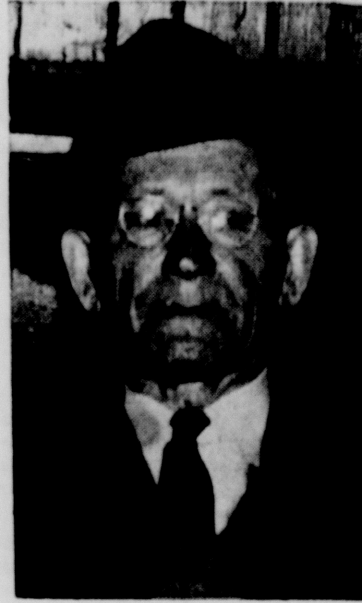

Temperatures hovered about freezing in the Upper Mississippi Valley and Upper Great Lakes region and only climbed to the 40s and 50s across most of the northern half of the country.

It was warmer and fairer in the South. Florida had temperatures in the 70s.

Most of the Rocky Mountain region enjoyed mild temperatures and so did the West Coast. Skies generally were clear—except in parts of the Northwest and Montana.

The switch in the foreign ministry could mean jockeying between Moscow and Peiping for the dominating influence in Pyongyang, North Korea is heavily indebted to Peiping for armed Chinese Communist support in the Korean War. The Russians previously held strong influence in the Pyongyang regime.

Atomic Energy Short Of Ike's Goal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

—The International Atomic Energy Agency reported Sunday nuclear power still is uneconomical—and therefore far short of President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace goal.

The two-year-old, 70-nation agency is an outgrowth of Eisenhower's proposal to the U.N. General Assembly Dec. 8, 1953, that the atomic powers pool nuclear materials and information for peaceful use by other countries.

The agency, based in Vienna, said in its latest annual report to the 82-nation Assembly: "The technology of power reactors, although steadily evolving, is still at a relatively early stage, and the cost of nuclear power production, according to present estimates, has not yet been reduced sufficiently to make it economically attractive except under certain technical and economic conditions."

This was a far cry from Eisenhower's claim that "peaceful power from atomic energy is no dream of the future" and his objective to "provide abundant electrical energy in the power-starved areas of the world."

The report brought out that so far the agency has supplied atomic materials to only one country. By agreements signed last March 24, it sold Japan three metric tons—4,614 pounds—of natural uranium for $35.50 a kilogram—2.2 pounds—to use in a research reactor. The agency got the uranium free from Canada.

Natural Uranium is so-called source material and needs special treatment before use. But the report showed the agency had feelers from Finland, Austria and Tunisia for so-called special fissionable materials, which can go right into a reactor.

The industry previously proposed submitting to arbitration its demands for changes in contract language covering local working conditions, unauthorized strikes, seniority and work schedules.

The new round of negotiations opened in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Solid Front Ends In 103rd Day

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steel industry's solid front in the 103-day nationwide steel strike cracked Sunday night when Kaiser Steel Co.—the nation's 12th biggest producer — said it would sign a separate agreement.

Kaiser employs 10,615 of the half-million United Steelworkers now on strike. It produces about two percent of the nation's steel.

The other 11 major steel firms said Kaiser's action will not change their positions—to resist any inflationary wage increase.

Kaiser is one of the industry's Big 12 companies that had been represented in negotiations with the United Steelworkers by a four-man industry negotiating team. The other 11 firms disclosed Kaiser's plans.

The big development in the costly dispute came amid reports that the industry was preparing to make new money concessions to the union in an effort to reach agreement.

Top level negotiators met here Saturday and Sunday and scheduled another session for Monday.

Separate meetings between 35 companies and the union also are planned Monday.

The industry said Kaiser was prepared to sign a labor agreement that would cost the other big companies 45 to 50 cents per man hour over a three-year period. Industry offers have been far below this figure.

Estimated Cost

Kaiser estimated the agreement it is about to sign would cost it about 10 cents per man-hour during the first year. Kaiser's plant is in Fontana, Calif.

It could not be learned immediately where the Kaiser-Union negotiations were carried on or where the contract would be signed.

USW President David J. McDonald said in Pittsburgh Sunday heading the union's four-man team in a negotiation session with the four-man industry team headed by R. Conrad Cooper.

Neither McDonald nor Cooper could be reached immediately for comment.

One union spokesman said Kaiser's break with the rest of the industry had been anticipated but added, "It came at a time that surprised many of us."

American Iron and Steel Institute, spokesman for the steel industry, issued a statement saying: "Undoubtedly, this action was dictated by circumstances peculiar to the Kaiser interests which are also engaged in the aluminum industry and which must therefore deal with the steelworker's union as a representative of their employees in both industries."

The companies said of the Kaiser agreement: "There are matters of principle with respect to pensions and insurance which are wholly unacceptable to the other steel companies in addition to the cost difference."

The other companies said the package that Kaiser estimated would cost 10 cents the first year would cost the big firms about 17 cents in the first year of any such agreement.

After Sunday's negotiations here, reports spread that the industry was ready to submit a new wage proposal to the union.

The report came shortly after recess of a 90-minute negotiating session—the second in as many days. After the unusual Sunday recess, negotiators refused to comment on the possibility of any new offer. Another joint negotiation meeting was scheduled for Monday.

An informed source said the companies have told USW President David J. McDonald he can have an annual wage package increase equal to three per cent of existing employment costs. The percentage figure was not broken down.

Last Offer
In its last offer, which the union rejected, the industry proposed a package increase which it said was equal to 2.6 per cent of employment costs.

The source said the three per cent package will not be put into the form of an offer unless there is some indication the union will accept. The firms still are insisting on contract changes to give management more say in working conditions, the source said.

The industry previously proposed submitting to arbitration its demands for changes in contract language covering local working conditions, unauthorized strikes, seniority and work schedules.

The new round of negotiations opened in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Eldred School Board Holds Meeting

KUNKLETON — The regular monthly meeting of the Eldred Township School Board was held recently in the Eldred Township Elementary School.

All members were present including Maynard Sterner, president; Franklin Andrews, vice-president; Leon Barlieb, secretary; Clark Green, treasurer, and Walter Semmel, fifth member of the board.

Also attending were Howard Berger, principal of the Eldred Township Elementary School and Sterling Drumheller tax collector for Eldred Township. Rev. Adan A. Bohner also attended as representative of the West End Taxpayers League.

The secretary reported that Dr. Robert Lilli of Gilbert had accepted an appointment as examining physician for the school for the current year. Dr. Robert Arner dentist also was appointed for this school year.

The secretary also reported that Eldred School had qualified to participate in the federal subsidy administered by the state of Pennsylvania whereby the cost of milk to pupils will be reduced from eight cents to five cents a half pint. The new prices will go into effect Nov. 2.

The secretary read a letter from John C. Mills supervising principal of the Pleasant Valley Jointure asking whether Eldred pupils will be tuition students at the new high school for the 1960-1961 term. After discussion the board deferred its decision.

The board also acted to fix the salaries of the secretary and treasurer and after considerable discussion set the compensation for the secretary at $500 per annum and the treasurer's salary at $300.

Drumheller delivered to the board a check in the amount of $17,098.16 representing school taxes collected to date. The secretary reported receipt of $18,885.33 in state reimbursement. The treasurer's report indicated a balance of $1,250.69 in hand before receipt of the two checks.

The funds in hand therefore totalled $37,234.15. The directors immediately voted to pay off a bank loan in the amount of $13,000 the only indebtedness outstanding. This left funds in hand which the directors felt will be sufficient for operation during the coming months until additional taxes and reimbursements are received.

The present Eldred Township school board took office last July by appointment upon the resignation of the previous board. At that time a chaotic condition existed and there were dire forecasts of a school deficit of over $30,000 at this time together with an increase of school tax in excess of 30 mills. Instead the tax rate was held down to 19 mills and the phantom of staggering indebtedness has disappeared.

Old-Age Survivors, Disability Insurance Payments Show Marked Increase In County

AS OF February, 1959, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits were being paid in Monroe County at the rate of $2,435,196 per year, according to Harry R. Peterman, manager of the Easton, social security district office.

"This is an increase of more than 30 percent over last year," Peterman said.

Peterman stressed that while the benefits are intended primarily for the beneficiary's economic security, the payment of social security benefits at the rate of almost two and one-half million dollars a year in Monroe County helps business in the community generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing, and other necessities. "In February social security benefits were being paid nationally at a rate of nearly 10 billion dollars annually.

"Payments to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits averaged $67.50 a month nationally in February, and to a retired couple $119.40 a month," Peterman said. The average for a widow with two young children was $165. The maximum payment for a family is $254.

"There were several reasons for the increase in beneficiaries over last year," Peterman said. The long-term growth of the aged population and of the proportion of the aged population eligible for benefits are important factors in the continuing increase in the number of beneficiaries.

Other reasons for the increase of beneficiaries are found in the provisions of the 1958 Amendments to the Social Security Act which now make it possible for the wife, dependent husband, and children of a disabled-worker beneficiary to receive monthly payments. These amendments also provide for benefits to aged dependent parents of a deceased worker even though other survivors are entitled to payments.

Five Receive Treatment At Dispensary

FOUR-year-old Charles Nelson of Minisink Hills injured his arm when he fell on barbed wire and needed 14 sutures to close the wound. He was treated at the Monroe County General Hospital Dispensary.

Two girls, Tracy Granger, of Stroudsburg, and Mary Jean Beck, of Portland, were treated for fractures received while playing at school.

Broken Bones

The Granger girl fell while swinging on the monkey bars and broke a bone on her right hand, while the Beck girl fractured her arm while climbing on some other gymnasium equipment.

An East Stroudsburg college student, Miss Patricia Fisher, was treated for a contusion on her foot when a heavy bench fell on it while she was student teaching at a local junior high school.

Charles Renciez, of Delaware Water Gap, pinched his right thumb on a car door and was treated for bruises.

Tannersville Man Injured Critically In Wreck

Crash Occurs On Road At Bartonsville

BARTONSVILLE — A 44-year-old Tannersville man is in critical condition in Monroe County General Hospital after an accident at 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

Arlott Butz, driver of the auto, was driving north on Route 611, State Police at Stroudsburg said, when the car went into a sudden spin after skidding on the highway and struck a bridge near the Cypher's Electric firm building at Bartonsville.

After being thrown down an embankment 15-feet deep from the auto, Butz was wedged between two trees and was under six inches of water, only his nose protruding, police said.

Assistance

Stephen Lucky, Stroudsburg RD 3, assisted police in finding Butz. The man was in large laurel growth which restricted vision.

Butz was taken to the hospital by ambulance where it was revealed he had a fractured hand and multiple head injuries.

State Police had no estimate of the amount of damage incurred through the accident. The investigation will be continued.

SMOKEY FIRE—East Stroudsburg firemen are shown here fighting a fire at a garage at 68 Kistler St., after it broke out at 1:45 a.m. yesterday. The firemen were at the scene for about an hour. The structure was gutted by the flames.

East Stroudsburg Garage Gutted By Afternoon Fire

EAST STROUDSBURG firemen answered a call at 1:45 a.m. yesterday when a one-car garage at 68 Kistler St. was gutted by flames.

Fire Chief Clarence Strunk said the fire, of undetermined origin, also burned some merchandise which the tenant, Clarence Seese, had stored in the structure.

Total damage was estimated at about $2,000, Strunk said. The building is owned by Arthur Zimmerman, 80 Kistler St., East Stroudsburg.

Compensation Unit Upholds Payments

(Record Harrisburg Bureau) HARRISBURG — The State Workmen's Compensation Board today upheld a referee's decision granting disability payments to Charles T. White, of Marshalls Creek.

The case was appealed to the board by White's employer, C. F. Grace, Stroudsburg, from a referee's decision awarding compensation to White for "the loss of the great toe together with a 12-week healing period."

The question before the board was "whether frostbite sustained during the performance of employment is compensable within the intent of the Workmen's Compensation Act."

In its decision the Workmen's Compensation Board said: "We believe the law has progressed to the point that frostbite unquestionably is an accident within the intent of the Statute. The question with which the board is faced therefore is completely that concerning the causal connection between the exposure and the disability. It is our opinion that the claimant has established a causal connection."

"Where disability as a result of an exposure manifests itself immediately, or within a reasonable time thereafter, and a causal connection is established, it becomes unquestionable that the disability is compensable."

"In this case we are disturbed to see a carrier take an appeal when it is so obvious that the claimant sustained such a serious injury from exposure. To argue that frostbite was brought about by no unusual environmental conditions is to avoid the clear dictates of the law. The principle is simply that where an unusual pathological result occurs from duties usual to the employer's work, the unusualness of the result is deemed to be the accident itself."

Police Probe Accidents In Borough

THREE accidents during the weekend kept the Stroudsburg Police busy, they reported yesterday.

The first occurred at 4:10 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Miss Ann J. Beggane, 35, of Kenny Ave., Mount Pocono, was moving across Ann St., after stopping for the stop sign, and struck an auto driven by Helmut M. Gartner, 21, of 141 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg, as his car was traveling east on Ann.

There were no injuries, police reported and damage to the two autos was about $300.

The investigation will be continued.

The second accident happened at 5:45 p.m. Saturday, when a car driven by William R. Shields, 27, of 244 Hoffman St., East Stroudsburg, struck a parked car at 121 N. Ninth St., owned by John Maholic, of the same address.

Police said Shields then failed to stop at the scene after his car struck the Maholic auto and continued on to Main, turned, then turned again up Seventh.

Bystanders who had followed the Shields' auto then called police and Shields was stopped and taken to the county jail to be held on a charge of disorderly conduct.

He will be given a hearing at 4:15 p.m. today before Justice of the Peace John Foelker on the present charge plus that of leaving the scene of an accident.

The third accident happened at 2:25 p.m. yesterday at the corner of Fifth and Main Sts. when a car driven by Richard Hilbert, 20, of 327 Main St., Stroudsburg, was struck by a second auto driven by Paul Howell, 52, of 660 N. 13th St., Easton just after the light had changed and Hilbert moved across the intersection, police reported.

There were no injuries and damage to both cars totalled about $300.

Police are continuing their investigation of this accident.

"I Was Warned About The CATHOLIC CHURCH!"

My relatives and friends were shocked when they heard I was studying to become a Catholic.

With complete sincerity...and a genuine concern for my welfare...they set out to show me what a terrible mistake this would be. And as I look back now, I realize that if all the things they believed about the Catholic Church were true in fact, I would indeed have been making a great mistake.

But the important fact is, the things they thought to be true were not.

Having been a non-Catholic myself until early manhood, I can understand the viewpoint of these people. And most of them, I realize, are prompted in their beliefs not by malice, but by genuine misunderstanding. And I am reminded of Christ's words to the Apostles: "...yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service" (John 16:2).

They sent me all sorts of pamphlets and tracts condemning the Catholic teaching on the Sacraments, on Baptism, salvation and other topics. There was, in these pamphlets, a remarkable lack of agreement as to the "correct" doctrine. They were in accord only in one thing—their opposition to the Catholic doctrine.

I have come a long way since I first looked at the Catholic Church through non-Catholic eyes. I am a convert to Catholicism, and I can, with knowledge, reason and fairness, discuss both sides of "The Catholic Question."

I have not, as my non-Catholic friends predicted, lost the slightest degree of religious freedom. I am not held to my faith by bonds of fear or superstition. The Catholic Church does not corrupt the Scriptures...does not deprive me of direct access to God...does not try to substitute a man-made system for the true religion of Jesus Christ. On the contrary, it has consistently taught what I am convinced are the true teachings of Jesus.

Not all of those who heard Christ's words from His own lips could believe what He said. Many of His disciples "...went back, and walked no more with Him" (John 6:67). It would, therefore, be presumptuous of me to think that all who read this will share my conviction that the Catholic Church is "the church of the Living God, the pillar and ground of the truth."

But there are, I know, many sincere, fair-minded people who want to know the Catholic Church as it is—not as it is often misrepresented to be. And for their benefit, I have written a pamphlet discussing many things about the Catholic Faith which most disturb and confuse those on the outside. A copy is yours for the asking. It will come to you in a plain wrapper, and nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet KC-43.

'Twas A Beautiful Day

Yesterday's bright sunshine was timed just right to coincide with the turning of the leaves to their brilliant hues. The show attracted thousands of people to the area and many reported it to be more beautiful than ever before.

The splendor of Flaming Foliage time usually unfolds in the Poconos during the first two weeks of October. Those who made their annual jaunt through the countryside during that period this year were doomed to disappointment, however, for the leaves were late in changing color.

The extreme humidity and the heat of the past Summer are given as reasons for the lateness of this year's Autumnal display.

One explanation has it that trees and other vegetation that shed leaves each year do so in response to the annual recurrence of conditions unfavorable to the continued activity of life in the plant.

Chief factors among these conditions are temperatures and moisture, and both continued favorable to plant growth longer than usual this year.

The colors themselves are due partly to chemical changes in the decaying chlorophyll. As the green-producing chlorophyll fades, it exposes pigment cells which it had previously concealed. The result is the coloration which we have long known here as Flaming Foliage.

Whatever the cause and result, we're glad the clouds parted yesterday and allowed the sun to cast its bright rays on the multi-colored woodlands. It was a sight that made us happy to be alive.

Keep Hunter Casualty Figure Low

When Gov. David L. Lawrence designated this week as "Hunt Safely Week" in Pennsylvania, he called attention to the fact our right to bear arms, and the privilege of hunting, place on sportsmen the responsibility of carefully handling guns and bows while afield for wild game.

Another small game season is about to open. Therefore the Game Commission recommends, in the interest of fewer hunter casualties:

Know your shooting implement and how to use it without endangering anyone.

Never point a gun or an arrow toward yourself or another person.

Maintain self-control. Excitement sometimes leads to optical illusions. No piece of game is worth a "guess shot" that may hurt someone.

Don't fire until you have definitely identified your wild target, and make sure no human is in the line of fire.

Wear "insurance"—garments of fluorescent or bright-colored fabric—to identify yourself as a human, not possibly any kind of wildlife found in Pennsylvania.

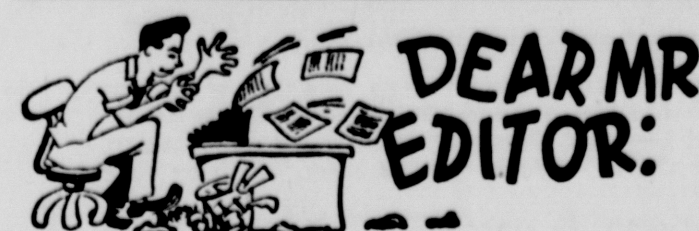

During each hunting season a surprising number of hunters shoot themselves or others by "horseplay", pulling a gun muzzle-first, making "sound shots" or by doing something dangerous with an instrument made to kill.

The use of good judgment and emotional control when hunting will prevent most shooting incidents involving humans.

The sportsman who follows the simple rules—handling his gun or bow with the respect due it, curbing his excitement and making sure he sees legal game before firing—derives only benefits, no regrets, from hours spent hunting wild game.

Long Overdue Investigation

Opposes Sewers Now

Mr. John F. Hill, Editor The Daily Record

Dear Mr. Hill: May I express my reasons, and those of many others for opposing the installation of a sewer in East Stroudsburg, at this time. The increase in taxes, with financing a new school, is a strain for those on a fixed income and young couples on the limited budget required to meet housing, living expenses and their children's education.

Two persons informed me that they had each bought a house in Stroudsburg in preference to East Stroudsburg, because they could not assume the uncertain cost of a sewer while paying for a home here. We have not been presented with facts, only tentative figures not based on any detailed information; nor have we, as taxpayers, been asked for our opinion as to this installation.

Over a thousand home owners have signed petitions opposing a sewer at this particular time. These signers resent the lack of consideration in foisting such an expense when many find it difficult to carry the present tax burden.

Some home owners have declared they will sell and move out of town because they cannot afford to live here. Naturally, this decision will have a detrimental effect on property values and business.

And, in regard to business, has there been an increase in manufacturing plants in Stroudsburg, since that town had a sewer?

I ask, why cannot this very important matter be put on the ballot for a vote by the people? Also, why is it not possible to install a section of sewer in areas where most needed and add extensions over a period of time? Other towns have done this.

Again, we hear rumors that the new school needs this sewer; is this true? A sanitary disposal unit is needed, but we need more facts and more time to prepare ourselves for this heavy and prolonged expense.

Can any project be worth the sacrifices and loss of homes that would result if forced upon us now? Surely those fostering the sewer must realize how impossible it would be for many families to assume such an expense with our present tax increase.

(MRS.) FRANCES B. KIFFIN

P.S.: I understand that a lien will be put on property where owners are unable to pay sewer costs. When the lien, in time, amounts to more than property value the former owner would be of necessity, homeless.

Lady And The Tramp

Dear Abby: Why is that a man who has a wife will pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady? Then he will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp?

LYDIA

Dear Lydia: A man picks up a "tramp" because he wants a female companion who is no better than he is. In her company, he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her "like a lady."

He treats his wife (who is a lady) like a "tramp" because he feels that by degrading her he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty. So in order to "get even" with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her.

Dear Abby: I have a buddy who is 18 years old, but his family treats him like he was about ten. His father says if he has anything to do with girls before he is 21 he will break his neck for him.

Now you know, Miss Abby, it isn't natural for a boy to stay away from girls until he is 21. In fact, I don't think it can be done.

My buddy and I go out with girls (nice ones) once in a while, but we have to lie to his parents. Is there any way I can convince this boy's parents to let him go with girls?

I am a minister's son and they like me.

BUDDY

Dear Buddy: I can think of no quicker way for well-meaning parents to drive their children into "bad company" than by "forbidding" them to associate with the opposite sex. The parents of your Buddy are not likely to appreciate your suggestions with regard to raising their son. Perhaps your father could talk to his father.

Dear Abby: I have six children and my husband has two jobs. Because of this we hardly get to go anywhere, but when we do we always have to take his mother because she invites herself.

She weighs about 300 pounds and we don't have a truck or station wagon, so when we go for a ride all the kids have to sit on top of each other. That isn't so bad, but when we take Grandma, she brings along a pick and shovel because she likes to stop along the road and dig up plants and flowers. She found a lemon tree she liked once. "Private property" means nothing to her. I'm afraid we'll all go to jail. We can't tell her anything because she's 72 and doesn't like to be told. How can we handle her?

LAWFUL

Dear Lawful: With a great deal of respect and firmness. Simply announce when you pick her up that the gardening tools stay behind. If you stop and allow Grandma to help herself to private property, you are as guilty as she is.

With Walter Winchell On Broadway

The Broadway Lights

The First-Nights: "Take Me Along," the Season's first big musical, opened Thursday evening at the Shubert and brightened the Broadway interference. It is a "Wilderness" — this time with Jackie Gleason, Walter Pidgeon and Robert Morse guiding the rest of the talent in a Big Time show.

Bob Merrill's score is his best since enlisting in the Broadway ranks and Onna White's choreography is another high spot. Mr. Gleason's performance is one of the most entertaining in town. Especially when he duets with Mr. Pidgeon in a delightful Soft Shoe number, when he shares "Promise Me A Rose" and "But Yours" with lark Eileen Herlie and when he leads the cast early in the show with "Said, Old Kid."

Walter Pidgeon's versatility is something to see. His dignity, poise and professionalism delight. Robert Morse, who was hilariously funny in "Say Darling," confirmed the high praise of the critics again, and Una Merkel and Miss Herlie add to the happy evening.

But it is Mr. Gleason who intoxicates you. In the Wings: The week's big dramatic hit was "The Miracle Worker" starring Anne Bancroft. The critics unanimously embraced it. In Sardi's when the reviews were in, a player said: "How do you like those smash notices? ... You mean," punned another, "smooch notices?" In the Dunces Cap replaced the Halo.

The Kodakors: "The Last Angry Man" is a touching tale about a noble medic. Dr. Paul Muni injects the spectator with that wonder drug: Talent. "The Wonderful Country" is conventional guntertainment. "They Came to Cordura" has Gary Cooper and Rita Hayworth in a taut, tingle tale. "Libel" unreeled an engrossing courtroom drama starring Olivia DeHavilland. "The Young Land" offers a better-than-average adventure in The Great Outdoors. Besides, the fresh air is good for you. "A Summer Place" takes an adult approach to the Oldest Emotion, submits that Love isn't always lovely.

The Democrats of Texas, led by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, have launched Lyndon Johnson, the leader of the Democrats in the Senate, as a candidate. It is to be noted that the ADA, the Americans for Democratic Action, do not name Johnson as among those whom they support.

The Allen-Scott Report

Beams Destroy Missiles

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — U.S. ballistic missiles are being accidentally blown up during tests by commercial radio and TV broadcasts.

Safety detectors in these missiles are being inadvertently touched off.

In this way, at least six intermediate range Thor (Air Force) and Polaris (Navy) have been unintentionally destroyed in recent months at the two major testing centers — Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Vandenberg Base, Calif.

There were no casualties in any of these instances.

These are the highlights of a backstage Air Force report by a staff of experts. Their extraordinary findings are based on a comprehensive study to ascertain why IRBMs, after being successfully launched, thereupon exploded without any failure of their parts being recorded on the devices with which they are equipped for this purpose.

Possible sabotage is not wholly ruled out in the report. But the Air Force investigators found no clear-cut indications of that, and do not consider it a factor in this perplexing and costly missile problem — that has appreciably delayed the perfection of these vital weapons.

Sen. Johnson, Candidate

Among the Democrats, candidates are numerous. This is not unusual for a party out of office and was so when the Republicans were out of office. Today, the Republicans limit themselves to two aspirants, the Vice President, Richard Nixon, and the Governor of New York State, Nelson Rockefeller.

The Democrats of Texas, led by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, have launched Lyndon Johnson, the leader of the Democrats in the Senate, as a candidate. It is to be noted that the ADA, the Americans for Democratic Action, do not name Johnson as among those whom they support.

In a word, this is a strong man. At a period when this country is weak in leadership, it is sound to have on both the Republican and Democratic sides, strong men whose experience has been in government and who are able to carry on.

Every American boy is told, I suppose, that he might, if he is a good boy, some day become President of the United States. Actually most men could not fill the Presidency. In fact, most of the candidates and prospective candidates now milling about reading ghost-written speeches, could not fill the office.

Most of them are by training and temperament unsuited to handle the complicated administrative problems which now face an American President.

This cannot be said of Lyndon Johnson who has been in a position to assist the President of the United States to carry through a heavy program in the face of the Russian menace and at a time when both houses of Congress are Democratic and the Presidency is held by a Republican.

President Eisenhower was saved from the disaster which befell the Hoover Administration because a Democratic Congress was willing to co-operate with him. This was accomplished by Lyndon Johnson in the national interest.

The campaign is heating up in both parties. The Democrats face the major difficulty that they are a divided party, the ADA cutting off a swath, supporting three candidates, Hubert Humphrey, John Kennedy and Stuart Symington.

Perhaps they support Symington but he does not support them. However that may be, the country is turning conservative which seems to be the fashion these days and an ADA endorsement can hurt.

In New York State, for instance, the Democrats are being divided into factions by the activities of Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman, and Thomas Finletter who are promoting a liberal opposition to Carmine DeSapio in the interest of the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson.

In the first skirmish, the Roosevelt-Lehman faction lost. They may lose the battle. The danger is that they may split the party permanently between Democrats and A.D.A. adherents. It could hurt seriously.

Flash — Russia is on the verge of putting into production an anti-missile missile. Intelligence has definitely established that. The Soviet successfully tested a number of these missiles in recent months in southwest Russia and eastern Siberia. The U.S. has nothing comparable to this Red weapon. The nearest to it is the Army's still-undeveloped Nike-Zeus, which will have a 200-300 mile range against ballistic missiles.

The first visit to the U.S. by an Austrian Defense Minister, since World War II, takes place the end of this week with the arrival of Herr Ferdinand Graf. During his 14-day trip, he will visit a number of military installations. Last year, Graf went to Moscow, but was shown little. Neutralist Austria has an annual defense budget of $80 million; an army of 47,000; and a reserve of 60,000.

Women Into Space — Soviet space scientists are planning to send women as well as men into space in a few months.

First Red astronauts may not get back to earth alive, although Soviet scientists say they will make every effort to return them.

Prof. E. K. Federov and Gen. A. A. Blagoravoy highlighted these Soviet space plans at a Moscow meeting of Research Committee No. 3 of the Soviet Academy of Science.

In his speech, Federov flatly states that the first man into space will be Russian and that this will take place in December or early 1960. He reveals this astronaut will be a volunteer from among 300 men and women now undergoing lengthy and rigorous preparations for space travel.

The Pennsylvania Story

High Cost Of Schools

By Mason Denison

Stroudsburg — One of the toughest nuts to crack — and it was brought out recently in a Senate investigation report on Pennsylvania's public school program — is how to lick the problem of ever mounting school construction costs taxpayers are forced to foot.

Said the Senate committee in its report:

"It is clear to the committee that the school building program is in need of a thorough and complete examination."

This unquestionably is one of the understatement of the year!

The State Department of Public Instruction drew much of the criticism leveled in this direction by the Senate committee, yet at the same time the committee asserted that local school boards must also accept responsibility for "local lavishness."

Between the two — the Department of Public Instruction and the local school board — lies the crux of the thorny problem.

DPI however is limited in what it can and cannot do in relation to holding down local school construction costs. Legislation now before the Legislature that would reduce state aid in proportion to the amount of money spent per pupil — above the state average — has the full backing of the department.

Also the department has gone on record as favoring legislation (HB 2173 already cleared by the House and now before the Senate) that would authorize the department to prepare standardized or uniform plans for classrooms and other instructional and service areas for proposed new schools.

This in itself is viewed as a major piece of legislation in the drive to keep school building costs down. Standardized plans projecting the most efficient and least costly type are generally viewed as a big part of the answer in keeping local boards from — going overboard.

Of unusual interest is the fact that in a move somewhat contrary to most "lobby" groups around Capitol Hill, the Pennsylvania Society of Architects (which only this past week-end wound up its annual three-day convention) has gone on record as favoring HB 2173 providing for preparation of uniform school plans.

In fact it is understood the architects' society had much to do with helping write the bill in the first place.

Commented Society President William W. Eshbach, during the convention just ended: "School building costs today are high and are going higher and higher unless steps are taken to hold down these rising costs. We in the architectural profession are more than willing to do everything we can to help in this challenge. Most certainly it is in the best interests of taxpayers, local and state school officials to have this legislation which would authorize the Department of Public Instruction to make available to school districts and architects, approved drawings for standard classrooms and other instructional and service areas."

Unusual? Unquestionably, and most certainly Pennsylvania's architectural profession deserves a pat on the back.

The Senate investigation committee in its report pointed out these shortcomings in the field of mounting school construction costs. The legislature seemingly has its path laid out for it.

Try and Stop Me—by Bennett Cerf

The late V.P. Alben Barkley, liked to tell of election campaigns in his boyhood days when no Southern politician stood a chance unless he could prove he had been wounded in the War Between the States. One campaign was so spirited that three candidates were conceded an equal chance right down to the wire.

The final rally saw all three on a platform. "Vote for me," urged the first, "I left a leg at Shiloh." "The second boasted of the patch he wore over an eye lost at Vicksburg. The third candidate had himself carried to the podium by a couple of husky henchmen.

"Friends," he thundered, "I wasn't old enough to fight in that war, so I wasn't wounded. But if physical disability is to be considered a criterion for office holding, I can tell you this: I am the doggonedest cow-kicked son-of-a-gun you ever saw!"

Marilyn Monroe was the guest of honor at a sportswriters-football coaches luncheon, and charmed all the guests by reminding them, "I bet I've called more defensive plays than the whole lot of you put together!"

"I do most of my work sitting down," the late Robert Benchley explained once to a youthful interviewer, "because that's where I shine."

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, we had our hours of glory, if we never have any more. It was a day to be drunk with color, blue, gold, purple, crimson, cerise, mauve, orange and colors that not even the eyelash pencil people have dreamed up a name for.

The cold rain last night fortunately drove us in to work and sobered us up, but it was wonderful while it lasted. Fortunately, I say, because it we'd had a few more hours of that we'd all be reduced to the point of saying nothing but "Oooh! Look!"

As it is, we came down to earth enough to observe that for every leaf that is coming down it seems a political sign is going up somewhere in the community. Added to the new one-way street signs in innumerable places and the motorist really has some reading matter.

Traffic patterns are hard to break, and you get a sort of lost feeling in your own home town driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

Sleep patterns are equally hard to break. I never really feel that I've gained back the hour we lost last Spring with Daylight Saving Time because I always discount it by staying up later. Just the same the morning awakening comes on summer time.

Which could be very productive, if in the week or so before we get used to the change we'd go bustling about with that extra hour in the morning to get some work done, spurred on by that indefinable feeling that "it's later than we think."

However, by putting it that way, I'm afraid I'll adjust to Standard Time much quicker than usual.

Russian Fashions Outdraw Sputnik At Finnish Show

By Anne Marie Snellman
HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—May Paris tremble—Moscow is on the offensive on the fashion front.

Six beautiful, shapely Russian models appeared Friday, dazzling Finns and outshining full-size polished Sputnik models.

A fashion show from Moscow's cooperative department stores was the hit of the opening of the fourth Soviet industrial exhibition here.

Rarely has the Western world seen such Soviet beauty at an official exhibit of this type. The models themselves seemed quite surprised at the success of the fashion show.

The favorite was a petite model named Tamara. She wore a low-cut, snow white dress studded with pearls.

A tall, slim girl named Mila was appealing in a steel-gray sheath evening gown with a short Persian fur cape to match.

Another favorite, named Marina, wore a frilled evening gown called "The Waterfall."

The models also showed Soviet sports fashions.

After the fashion show, guards had to surround the models to protect them from swarms of enthusiastic Finns.

Little attention was paid to the Sputnik models or to the new nine-seat Zis sedan.

Let's Give Enough

Wyckoff
Shopper

Advertisements galore advise us from time to time that a woman is a queen ... that the private world of her home is her kingdom ... and that her reign is supreme and unchallenged. It remained, however, for Schick to present her with her Crown Jewel ... and this has been done in a beautiful electric razor which was introduced to the world on television last Thursday night.

I had a preview of this lovely shaver Thursday afternoon when the Schick sales representative, Richard Paes, of Lancaster, visited our office and produced a stunning white leatherette box lined in scarlet velvet, from a deep bag of the same brilliant velvet. It is beautiful ... and for the first time, I can truthfully say I became desirous of owning one of these electric grooming aids. The Crown Jewel is alabaster white, and its 96 tiny, concealed blades of gleaming gold metal were capped with a clear, sparkling lucite. Its contour is attractive, and so designed that the razor is easy to hold and manipulate. On the side is a crest of gold filigree into which is set a tiny circle of sparkling "diamonds".

"This is really grand," I enthused. "Are we stocking them at Wyckoff's?"

Mr. Paes assured me that we are ... and that our first shipment will arrive sometime this week. The price is only 17.50, and I cannot think of any gift half so luxurious, or personal, for a man to give his wife or sweetheart this coming holiday season. There is a certain elegance about Crown Jewel by Schick, that is guaranteed to make any housewife, or saleswoman, or secretary, feel very feminine ... very dainty and as regal as all get out!

Every day brings interesting people to Wyckoff's ... one of the most recent visitors being the Rev. Frederick Drebert, missionary to Alaska, who was the first white man to translate the Bible into the Eskimo language. The Rev. Mr. Drebert has brought to our store one of these Bibles, and such words I never saw in my life! Some of them are fully a half page wide, and, to my untutored eyes, completely unpronounceable. He has also brought many terrifying masks and other curios which, I understand, will soon be put on display.

Mr. Drebert's autobiography, "Alaskan Missionary", is being sold at 1.00 in our stationery department. These are autographed, making them of special significance to the purchaser, and appear to be most interesting. I have not had the opportunity to read mine as yet, but will be able to tell you more next Wednesday morning, October 28th, at 9:15 when I will have this distinguished gentleman as a guest on our Wyckoff Shopper radio program over WYPO.

Old Envelope Found On Painting

ON THE back of the painting owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Keiper has been discovered an old envelope in which is a complete record of the life and works of Cullen Yates.

The Pocono Art Center has been holding a retrospective exhibit of Yates paintings and has been making a file of all paintings owned by local residents.

This yellowed envelope which contains old newspaper clippings about Yates, proved a valuable source of information.

Yates was born Jan. 24, 1866 in Bryan, Ohio, and built his home in Monroe County in 1908. For many years he painted the beauties of this region and brought national renown to this county through his paintings.

Landscape Artist

He was one of the most prominent landscape artists at the turn of the century and is represented in many of the major museums in America, ranging from the Brooklyn Museum of Art and Science, the National Gallery, Washington, D.C., the St. Louis Museum of Art, Los Angeles and Seattle Museums in the West.

His many honors and prizes and his membership in outstanding art organizations of the United States testify to his ability and recognition as a major landscape painter.

Twenty-four of his paintings are shown at the center and will remain there until the end of October. The center now plans to contact all these sources to have a complete record of the works of this well-known painter.

Fire In Tannersville

TANNERSVILLE — Pocono Township firemen were called at 7 a.m. yesterday to extinguish a chimney fire here.

The fire was at the home of Mrs. Molly Yarbrough, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green.

Almost no damage was caused by the blaze, and firemen returned to the firehouse after a short time at the scene.

Lions Upset Rams, 17-7

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Lions Sunday cashed in on three breaks to upset the Los Angeles Rams 17-7 and win their first game of the National Football League campaign.

A highly disappointing crowd of 74,288 saw the Lions turn one fumble and two pass interceptions into touchdowns—more than enough to upend the heavily favored Rams.

Quarterback Earl Morrall went all the way for Detroit to engineer the victory. Morrall replaced Tobin Rote. The big Lion defense troops stopped the Ram running attack almost cold.

ESSTC In 0-0 Duel

Warriors Bid In 1st Half Hurt By Mud

WAYNESBORO, Pa. — Stymied by rain and a muddy gridiron, East Stroudsburg Teachers and Waynesburg College battled to a scoreless duel before 1200 Parents Night diehards here Saturday night.

The flying Warriors, who enplaned out of Allentown Saturday at 3 p.m. and arrived back in the Queen City at 2:30 a.m., had two chances in the first half to score but were hampered by the unsure footing and wet football.

The Deadlock left East Stroudsburg with a three-win, two-loss and a one tie record. It was the second knot this year for Waynesburg. The Western Pennsylvania have no wins and three losses to go along with their pair of stalemates.

At the tail end of the first quarter, East Stroudsburg went deep into Waynesburg territory behind the quarterbacking of freshman Billy Lewis. However, the Wayne intercepted one of Lewis' aerials on the five to thwart the bid. ESSTC had driven to the home eleven's 11 and had a first and ten situation when Lewis' pass went astray.

The Warriors second opportunity came in the second period when they drove to the Waynesburg 13 and had a first and 10 setup. But again the Wayne defense stiffened as they stopped the Warrior running attack and knocked down Lewis passes.

Brunner Missed

East Stroudsburg played offensively without the services of its leading ground-gainer fullback John Brunner. The senior co-captain did see action defensively. Earl Faunce took over Brunner's plunging spot for the "Hill" team.

Quick kicks by ESSTC's punter Riney Summerfield kept Waynesburg in the hole throughout the first half and a good share of the second.

Waynesburg got a big break in the third period when they recovered a Warrior fumble on ESSTC's 11. But the East Stroudsburg forward wall turned back the bid and took over on downs on the three.

Good Air Defense

East Stroudsburg's aerial defense was especially sharp, stopping every Waynesburg pass except one. Waynesburg completed its only air sortie with just three minutes left in the game.

East Stroudsburg completed four passes, two by Lewis and one each by quarterback Gary Rumberger and halfback Ralph Demchak. All were caught by end Ken Hendricks.

Even On Ground

Both eleven were fairly even on the ground as the slippery field hampered the running of ESSTC's fleet-footed speedsters Joey Simms, Dick Schleicher, and Demchak.

ESSTC also was without the services of another one of its first string backs — Billy Race. Race was forced to go to his home in Archbald, Pa., because of the serious illness of his father.

East Stroudsburg will be on the road again this Saturday, traveling to Bloomsburg to meet the Huskies in their annual homecoming day tilt.

Rich Get Richer On College Front

By Will Grimsley

Associated Press Sports Writer

THAT grizzled spoiler of gridiron fortunes, Old Man Upset, went on a holiday instead of a binge and the rich got richer in college football over the weekend.

The "Big Three" in the national rankings—Louisiana State, Northwestern and Texas—survived formidable tests, but felt growing pressure from such teams as Mississippi, Syracuse and Penn State, which rang up powerhouse victories.

All of the top 10 teams in The Associated Press poll except 10th-ranked Arkansas, crushed 28-0 by fourth-ranked Mississippi, came out on top. Forty-two teams, including nine of major classification, remained unbeaten and untied.

Unbeaten and untied, Syracuse is sixth and Penn State eighth in the latest ratings.

The East gained additional prestige in Pennsylvania's 22-22 tie with Navy and Yale's five straight shutout victory — a 21-0 decision over Colgate.

Northwestern, No. 2 in the poll, uncovered a new star in John Talley, who threw three touchdown passes and ran 61 yards for a fourth score in beating hepped-up Notre Dame 30-24. Texas, No. 3, also got a one-man show from Jack Collins, who ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third in a 28-6 triumph over Rice.

Trojans Unmarried

Southern California kept its unmarred record intact by edging Stanford 30-28. Clark Holden scored four touchdowns for the fifth-ranked Trojans, who had to rally in the last half to win.

Games, beating Florida Saturday. Once-beaten Georgia Tech, No. 9, turned back Tulane 21-13 to

Schoolboys Run Into Upset Path

HARRISBURG (AP) — Upsets took usual toll in Pennsylvania high school football over the weekend.

Some weren't too surprising, such as Old Forge's loss to Scranton Central or Clairton's defeat at the hand of Charleroi. Others were real shocks, including Conestoga's 26-7 loss to Phoenixville, unheralded Marple-Newton's 13-7 victory over Haverford and Latrobe's 20-15 loss to Connelisville.

With Latrobe and Clairton out of the race, the WPIAL-AA competition narrowed down to four teams: Aliquippa, Charleroi, Farrell and Johnstown.

Old Forge at Scranton Central — East Penn northern division dark horse Scranton Central came through with an 18-13 victory, just about killing Forge's hopes for a repeat of its championship. It was Old Forge's first defeat, although it had been tied twice. Central has lost only to West Scranton in conference play.

Shamokin at Berwick — Favored Shamokin lost its second straight as Berwick came through with a 13-7 triumph. The Greyhounds were dropped well off the pace in the East Penn southern division race by the loss.

Carlisle at Hanover — The Hawks came through in fine style, 24-3, to wrap up their first South Penn championship since 1947. Fittingly enough, they succeeded Carlisle, who held the title five straight years.

Bedford at Richland Township — Richland stretched its winning string to 30 with an impressive 20-0 victory over tough Bedford.

Berks at Clairton, Latrobe, Haverford, and Conestoga, four other teams were dropped from the unbeaten-untied list over the weekend.

Media fell before Interboro, 13-12; Wyoming lost to Fort-Fort, 14-0; Richland lost to Plum, 20-6 and Fort Leboeuf was stopped by Lawrence Park, 7-0.

Mount Lebanon and York Suburban, meanwhile, were dropped from the unbeaten-untied rolls along with Old Forge. Uniontown stopped the Mounties, 18-0. York Suburban lost to Delco Catholic of Hanover.

Philadelphia's Roxborough high was dropped from the unbeaten-untied list in a scoreless tie with West Philadelphia.

continue high among Dixie's bowl possibilities. The only team to whip Tech, Auburn, ranked seventh, won a Friday night game from Miami (Fla.) 21-6.

Army, throwing 37 passes in a driving, row, whipped Colorado State 25-6 in a warmup for next Saturday's clash with the Air Force in New York's Yankee Stadium.

The Air Force, beaten only by Oregon, won 20-7 over UCLA Friday night.

Oregon was one of the major unbeaten-untied teams to fall by the wayside. An extra-point kick by George Fleming provided the margin in Washington's 13-12 victory. Arizona State at Temple lost its first, bowing to San Jose State 24-15.

Texas has the inside track for the Southwest Conference crown and Cotton Bowl bid, but must get by Southern Methodist next Saturday. SMU, 21-13 winner over Texas Tech, was the preseason league favorite.

Northwestern leads the Big Ten but, after an apparently easy test against Indiana next Saturday, must meet three contenders in a row — Wisconsin, Michigan State and Illinois.

Wisconsin edged Ohio State 12-3. Michigan State won over Indiana 14-6. In the traditional battle for the Little Brown Jug, Michigan topped Minnesota 14-6, handing the Gophers their 17th setback in the last 20 games. Purdue topped Iowa 14-7.

Ivy Title

The Ivy League title probably will hinge on Yale's game with Penn Nov. 7. In other Ivy games Saturday, Dartmouth shut out Harvard 9-0 and Princeton smashed Cornell 20-0.

Clemson 20-0 winner over South Carolina Thursday, heads the Atlantic Coast Conference, which provides one of the teams in the Orange Bowl. Wake Forest clung to second place despite a 21-19 loss to North Carolina. Duke beat North Carolina State 17-15.

Oklahoma won its 74th straight Big Eight Conference game without a defeat but it was a squeaker. An extra-point kick by Jim Davis edged Kansas 7-6. With Oklahoma ineligible, Kansas and Missouri, 9-9 winner over Nebraska, are the Orange Bowl bets.

Sub Fullback Molle Leads Bangor To 48-0 Victory

COPLAY — Demonstrating a terrific first quarter power potential the Slate Pickers of Bangor Area Joint High School swamped the Wild Cats of Coplay High on the losers field Saturday afternoon by a 48 to 0 score.

So overpowering were the Slaters that Coach Dakey Pritchard used his starting eleven only during the first quarter of the game when they amassed 32 points. The Wild Cats never were in the game registering only one first down, that through a penalty, in the last quarter.

Statistic wise, the Slaters rolled for 306 net yards all through rushing while the Coplay eleven had a net of minus one yard for its afternoon effort.

The Bangor scoring in the first quarter started in the first minute of play when Sal Molle, playing fullback in place of the injured Tim East picked up a Coplay fumble and went into the end zone after a 15 yard jaunt. Following the kickoff, Bob Dawe picked a Coplay forward off on the losers 25 yard line and went the distance.

Third TD

The third Slater T-D was the result of Bruce Jones intercepting a Coplay forward on the Wild Cat 40 and racing to the Coplay 10 before being stopped. From this point Molle powered his way up the middle to score. Jones also set up the next Slater forward by intercepting a Coplay forward on the 45 yard line of Bangor. Joella got around the Coplay left end and went to the Coplay 10 yard line. Joella and Dawe combined for the final ten yard with Joella going over tackle for the score.

Joella also scored the fifth Slater touchdown of the first quarter when he ran 20 yards from scrimmage after Dawe, Molle and Jones in company with Joella had hammered out the yardage to the Coplay twenty. Molle kicked two extra points for the Slaters in five attempts during the quarter. The score Bangor 32 and Coplay 0.

Sit Out Rest

The Bangor varsity, at the start of the second quarter was delegated to the bench for the balance of the contest. Following the change of goals the Bangor seconds forced the Coplayans to their ten yard line and a kicking down. Rushed hard by the Bangor forwards the centered ball sailed over the head of R. Romers, Coplay kicker, and out of the end zone to give the Slaters a two point safety score. Coplay kickoff from its 20 yard line following the safety with Ben Reimer taking the kick on the Bangor 35 and returning to the 45. Phil Falcone went seven yards and on the next play Bob Collura cut over the Coplay left end outdistanced the defenders and ran 47 yards to score. Molle place kicked the extra point.

Starting the second half the Bangor third stringers held the Coplay efforts in tow. Late in the third quarter Sal Molle got loose form 30 yards and ran to the Coplay 18. Collura made 7 yards and Molle in two plays made it a first down on the Coplay five. Reimer was held for no gain and on the next scrimmage play Molle went off to the final touchdown of the game. Molle also added the extra point.

Scores 23 Points

In the afternoon scoring Molle scored three touchdowns and added four extra points; Lou Joella scored two touchdowns; Bob Dawe and Bob Collura each one. The additional two points resulted from the safety.

Next Friday evening the Slaters face the Blue Eagles of Nazareth High in what is expected to be one of the hard fought contests of the year. Bangor must win this game to stay in the running for the Lehigh-Northampton League crown.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles stormed from 24 points behind to beat the Chicago Cardinals 28-24 Sunday on the second-half aerial offensive of Norm Van Brocklin and Billy Barnes' line blasts.

The payoff was a 22-yard throw from Van Brocklin to McDonald in the end zone that sent Philadelphia into the lead for the first time a little more than three minutes from the finish.
